

MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Why is the study of Languages important?

Language means ‘the method of human communication used by a particular community’. The study of a different language will enable you to develop an understanding of another culture and therefore gain a more profound understanding of your own language and culture. Language learning is a higher order skill and will encourage you to plan, solve problems, and manipulate the elements of language learnt to communicate effectively. From Year 7 you will have the exciting opportunity to listen to and read authentic material in the target language on a wide range of topics such as school, leisure time, family & relationships, technology, customs and festivals in other countries, to name but a few. You will become confident to speak in front of others and express your opinions in different ways. You will develop your understanding of grammar both in the target language and in English, and learn how to produce relevant, fluent and coherent pieces of writing. Your study of a Modern Foreign Language will encourage you to think deeply and help you more effectively communicate with others – a great life skill that all universities and employers will appreciate.

Across your study you will explore what life is like for young people in the target language country. Lessons will provide a wide range of opportunities for speaking, listening, reading and writing. Your MFL classroom will be brimming with vocabulary learning in fun and exciting ways, the recall of which is the key to all understanding and communication in the target language. You will engage with the grammar of the new language and use logic, reasoning and problem solving skills to apply it in context. Seems challenging - you are going to love it! MFL will expand your mind!

Big Issues such as the environment, poverty & homelessness, cultural differences across the world & in the country you are studying, social issues and society are all part of the MFL curriculum. You will think about the advantages and disadvantages of social media and technology, as well as reflect on your plans for the future in terms of relationships as well as future study and careers at GCSE and at A level you will not only study the aforementioned content but also widen your study to the Arts. You will be encouraged to develop your own thoughts and opinions on such issues and then express them not in English, but in the target language. What a level to reach! I bet you can't wait to get started...

What skills will the study of Languages teach you?

You are a citizen in this world and you need to know how to communicate effectively with those around you from all backgrounds and cultures. It will teach you to...

- Develop self-determination
- Master the basics – you have to know simple words first before you can create full sentences and meaningful language.
- Develop your memory skills – repetition is the mother of all learning.
- Express your thoughts and opinions in an organised way.

- Listen and read for detail and identify the key points.
- Take risks and be confident.

What will you know and understand from your study of Languages?

You will ...

- understand grammar and apply it in different contexts.
- communicate effectively in writing for a variety of purposes across a range of specified contexts.
- manipulate the language using and adapting a variety of structures and vocabulary with increasing frequency
- interact effectively in speech; initiate and develop conversations, ask and answer questions, respond to unexpected questions.
- identify the overall message, key points, details and opinions in a variety of short and longer spoken or written passages.
- deduce and infer meaning from a variety of spoken or written texts.
- translate into and out of the target language.

How does your study of Languages support your study in other subjects?

Study of any subject in our curriculum takes full advantage of links with other subject areas- we term these as interdisciplinary links and we make the most of them because we know that deep learning requires the transference of knowledge and skills from one topic of learning to another. Once you can transfer your learning across topics and subject areas then you are really mastering what you know and how to apply your understanding and skills.

Modern Foreign Languages touches on so many other subjects; language learning is the development of literacy skills, which are essential to the study of all subjects. In KS3, students complete cultural units that could be about an artist, a book, a film or the study of a custom or festival in the target language culture. At GCSE and A Level, students discuss global and social issues, which link to study in Science, Geography, Religious Education and Citizenship. There are very close links with the study of English in terms of grammatical language, expressing opinions and developing arguments, as well as the use of literary texts both at GCSE and at A level. You will learn methods of thinking and research that are widely applicable to other subject areas helping your thinking in all subjects.

How can you deepen your understanding of Languages?

We want to inspire you with a passion for language learning and a greater appreciation of different cultures. As well as studying French from Y7, you will have the opportunity to study either Spanish or German from Y8. You can also start learning Latin in Y9 as part of our varied Enrichment programme. The Language Department organises a number of cultural events around the festivals of the Target Language countries such as the celebrations of el Día de los Muertos, le 14 juillet, the festival of Epiphany etc. We also run a trip to France where you get to put into practice the language you have learnt in school. In Years 9 & 10 you can enrol in our Language Leaders Programme which gives you the training to teach Languages to younger students in our partner primary schools during the Summer Y5 Languages days. For our GCSE & A level students, we offer targeted intervention in enrichment to support what you are doing in class. Master classes are also on offer if you wish to take your languages further be it for further study at A level or at University. The MFL department offers lots of great opportunities for you to really engage with this fabulous subject. Get involved! Become a linguist.

How are you assessed in Modern Foreign Languages?

Throughout the 5 or 7 years Language course you are assessed using the following assessment objectives which ensure that you can cumulatively build your subject understanding in preparation for future GCSE and A Level study. There are half termly assessment points each year. For younger years we base our assessment on our subject mapping of our age related expectations across the curriculum assessing your performance against these expectations at this point in their studies. At GCSE we make predictions informed by our holistic assessment of your progress against the key assessment objectives of the Edexcel GCSE Specification and your aspirational GCSE targets. These are also the basis for any appropriate support and intervention.

The KS5 assessment framework works in the same way with 6 Praising stars points in year 12 and 5 in year 13. Your progress is measured against the key assessment objectives of the AQA A level Specification and your A level targets. At each point appropriate support is put in place should it be required.

Key Assessment Objectives KS3 & KS4

Paper 1: LISTENING: understand and respond to spoken language.

Paper 2: SPEAKING: communicate and interact in speech.

Paper 3: READING: understand and respond to written language.

Paper 4: WRITING: communicate in writing.

Key Assessment Objectives KS5
